A MANLY DECLARATION.

The New York Republican State Convention does not act on the principle of the dissemblers; it knows what it wants and so declares in its platform. It is opposed to free coinage and it says so. It indorses President Harrison and his vigorous declaration at Albany in the following unmistakable language:

"We cordially indorse the vigorous declaration of President Harrison made in the City of Albany in favor of an honest dollar; we commend Republican Members of Congress for having secured the defeat of the free coinage bill, the effect of which would have been to derange values, impair contract obligations, reduce the pay of labor and debase the currency. "The people must continue to look to the Republican party to maintain the good faith of the nation in all matters of finance, pledged as it is, to keep any dollar bearing the stamp of the United States at par with gold and to repel the assaults of the reckless advocates of free and unlimited coinage of silver."

Those principles were indorsed at Minneapolis as well as in New York. The Republican Members of Congress are commended for having assured the defeat of free coinage, and President Harrison is eulogized for his Albany speech against silver, yet there are newspapers and place hunters in Nevada that pretend to favor free coinage, while advocating the election of Harrison.—Reno Journal.

The Review.

Yesterday the Nevada National Guard appeared in review before Governor Colcord and his staff. Seventeen guns were fired as a salute. The entire regiment was in its best bib and tucker, much to the pleasure of Adj. Gen. Poujade and Col. Lord who have carefully impressed the men with the fact that neatness is an important factor in a military display.

The Staff spoke very highly of the encampment, and were especially pleased with the marked improvement among the men after having been in camp such a short time.

Many visitors from other towns witnessed the review. All day the streets were filled with strangers who hobnobbed with the boys of the hour and drank in the cool, fresh air of the Capital.

When a fraud cannot play the old soldier himself he is comparatively safe in saying, "But I am the son of one." We recently asked a man who had howled this forth with a good deal of energy, what regiment his father belonged to? He stammered and hesitated, and then lied. The old soldier (and we wear the button) wants to keep a weather eye on these clamorous young scions of the old guard who avail themselves of the darkness of time to get there on the reputation of the dead.—St. Paul Great West.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press says that Mr. Cleveland will not be compelled to enquire next November in the plaintive tones of the inebriated Congressman, "Where am I at?" He went to the head waters of Salt river in 1888, and will at once recognize his surroundings.
